

What to Do When You're Stuck In...

BOS

From higher ed and financial services to nonprofits and biotech, buzzing hub Boston is home to a wide array of industries — which means the historical city sees its fair share of business travelers.

But as they sometimes do, delays, cancellations, and other unfortunate events can leave travelers hanging in the airport longer than they'd planned for.

If you happen to find yourself with some extra time in Boston's Logan Airport, don't sweat it.

Check out these unique-to-BOS hotspots and have some fun while passing the time:

This Logan Airport restaurant, part of the Boston-born celebrity chef's empire, serves internationally-inspired steaks alongside tasty tacos.

Berkshire Farms Market | Gate B20

Find plenty of Massachusetts-sourced goodies, from pastries and chocolates to fresh salads and sammies, at this grab-and-go market.

DRINK

Harpoon Tap Room | Gate A20

Sip on IPAs, stouts, and plenty of other tasty pours at this Logan outpost of Boston-based Harpoon Brewery.

Fuel America | Gate E7

Inspired by a good ol' American cup o' joe, this coffee shop helps travelers get their buzz on after a redeye or during a long layover. Try the locally-roasted Patriot's Blend.

We recommend starting with the Staff Picks and then browsing your favorite authors from there. May we suggest something by Hawthorne or Thoreau?

Treat yo'self while you wait for your flight with a blowout, quick trim, or relaxing mani-pedi.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

Talk about a mouthful!
